

EXHIBIT 56

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK

GOVERNMENT OF THE UNITED STATES
VIRGIN ISLANDS,

Plaintiff,

v.

JPMORGAN CHASE BANK, N.A.,

Defendant/Third-Party Plaintiff.

Case No. 22-cv-10904-JSR

JPMORGAN CHASE BANK, N.A.,

Third-Party Plaintiff,

v.

JAMES EDWARD STALEY,

Third-Party Defendant.

JPMORGAN CHASE BANK, N.A.'S
FIFTH SUPPLEMENTAL INITIAL DISCLOSURES

Pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 26(a)(1), Defendant/Third-Party Plaintiff JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A. (“JPMorgan”) makes the following fifth supplemental initial disclosures to Plaintiff Government of the United States Virgin Islands (“USVI” or “Plaintiff”) and Third-Party Defendant James Edward Staley (“Staley” or “Third-Party Defendant”).

The disclosures made herein are based upon information reasonably available to JPMorgan at the present stage of this litigation and the issues as currently defined by the complaint. JPMorgan reserves the right to supplement, revise, or otherwise amend the information contained herein as discovery continues.

By making these disclosures, JPMorgan does not represent that it is identifying every document, tangible thing, or witness that may be relevant to the issues in this action, or on which JPMorgan may rely in support of its claims or defenses. Nor does JPMorgan waive its rights to object to production of any document or tangible thing disclosed on the basis of any valid objection (including but not limited to any privilege, the work-product doctrine, relevancy, hearsay, undue burden, or any other proper ground) or its rights to object to the use of any information disclosed for any purpose, in whole or in part, in any subsequent proceeding in this action or in any other action. JPMorgan also reserves the right to object on any and all proper grounds to any other discovery request or proceeding involving or relating to the subject matter of these disclosures consistent with the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and the Local Rules for the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York.

JPMorgan's disclosures represent its good faith effort to identify information it reasonably believes is required by Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(a)(1). The disclosures set forth below are made subject to the above objections and qualifications.

I. INDIVIDUALS WITH KNOWLEDGE

Based on information reasonably available at this time, JPMorgan identifies the following individuals who may be likely to have discoverable information that JPMorgan may use to support its claims or defenses, unless such use is solely for impeachment. In making these disclosures, JPMorgan does not waive its right to object, pursuant to any applicable Federal Rule of Civil Procedure or Local Rule, to the deposition or trial testimony of any of the individuals listed below.

JPMorgan does not consent to or authorize communication by the Plaintiff with the individuals identified below. Each of the individuals identified below can be reached through counsel for JPMorgan.

Because discovery, investigation, and analysis of these matters is ongoing, JPMorgan reserves the right to supplement this information if additional information later becomes known and to designate and/or call further witnesses at trial. JPMorgan also reserves the right to seek discovery from, and relating to, other persons that may subsequently become known as persons likely to have discoverable information relevant to the disputed facts.

In addition to the above-named individuals, all persons deposed in this case and other persons identified in the documents described in Section II below may have discoverable information that JPMorgan may use to support its claims or defenses. JPMorgan reserves the right to modify and supplement the foregoing list and to identify and call as witnesses additional persons if, during the course of discovery and investigation relating to this case, JPMorgan learns that such additional persons have knowledge or information that JPMorgan may use to support its claims or defenses.

Further, JPMorgan also reserves the right to call as witnesses individuals in addition to those identified herein to the extent such witnesses are required to authenticate an exhibit offered into evidence or to establish chain of custody of an exhibit offered into evidence. JPMorgan also may rely on expert witnesses, to be disclosed in accordance with Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 26(a)(2), to support its claims or defenses. JPMorgan specifically reserves the right to call any deponent or declarant in this action as a trial witness to testify regarding matters covered in his/her deposition or declaration and/or to rely on any such testimony in support of its claims or defenses in this case. JPMorgan further specifically reserves the right to call any individual(s) identified in the Plaintiff's disclosures, including as amended.

II. CATEGORIES OF RELEVANT DOCUMENTS

At present, JPMorgan believes that the following documents, electronically stored information, and tangible things may be used to support JPMorgan's claims or defenses, unless such use is solely for impeachment. This disclosure does not include documents solely within the Plaintiff's or the Third-Party Defendant's possession, custody, or control. This disclosure does not include expert materials that may be or have been developed, which will be disclosed pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 26(a)(2). This disclosure does not constitute an admission as to the existence, relevance, or admissibility of the identified materials or a waiver of any attorney-client privilege, work product protection, or other applicable privilege or immunity.

- 1) Documents, communications, and electronically stored information relating to JPMorgan's AML compliance program and other policies and practices.
- 2) Documents, communications, and electronically stored information relating to Jeffrey Epstein's accounts and accounts related to Jeffrey Epstein at JPMorgan.
- 3) Documents, communications, and electronically stored information relating to James Staley's employment, compensation, and duties at JPMorgan, including JPMorgan policies and codes of conduct.
- 4) Documents, communications, and electronically stored information relating to James Staley's communications with or about Jeffrey Epstein.

JPMorgan will make the foregoing documents available for inspection or copying at a time and place to be mutually agreed upon by the parties, subject to any applicable privacy or other restrictions and to the extent they are non-privileged and in JPMorgan's possession, custody, and control. JPMorgan has produced Mr. Staley's personnel file which includes Mr. Staley's Code of Conduct affirmations and information regarding Mr. Staley's compensation, and points Mr. Staley to the following documents in support of its claims:

JPM-SDNYLIT-00178143–JPM-SDNYLIT-00178494

JPM-SDNYLIT-00202227–JPM-SDNYLIT-00204753

JPM-SDNYLIT-00204821–JPM-SDNYLIT-00204836

In addition to the above-described documents, JPMorgan expects that, during the course of discovery, experts will identify documents used to support their opinions pertaining to the issues in this case. Further, JPMorgan may rely upon publicly available documents and documents that have been identified in the initial disclosures of any other party or may be obtained through discovery or are otherwise produced by the Plaintiff and/or third parties.

Because discovery, investigation, and analysis of these matters are ongoing, JPMorgan expects to discover additional documents and/or tangible things upon which it may rely to support its claims or defenses, including documents from the Third-Party Defendant. JPMorgan therefore reserves the right to supplement this information accordingly.

Notwithstanding this identification of these categories of documents, JPMorgan reserves the right to object to any of the Plaintiff's discovery requests on related topics to the extent such requests are overly broad, unduly burdensome, and/or call for documents beyond the scope of JPMorgan's discovery obligations under the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure or the Local Rules, and/or any other applicable basis for objection.

III. CALCULATION OF DAMAGES

USVI v. JPMorgan:

Not applicable.

JPMorgan v. Staley:

As stated in its Third-Party Complaint, JPMorgan seeks the following damages from Staley:

- 1) All damages awarded to the USVI as discussed in Section 3 of USVI's Supplemental Initial Disclosures dated March 22, 2023, and any amounts JPMorgan pays to the USVI to settle this action.
- 2) Damages for breach of fiduciary duty, including all damages awarded to the USVI as discussed in Section 3 of USVI's Supplemental Initial Disclosures dated March 22, 2023, all costs of defending the USVI v. JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A. litigation to be determined after JPMorgan's liability has been decided or the case has reached final settlement.<sup>2</sup>
- 3) All compensation paid by JPMorgan to Staley from 2006 through 2013, which JPMorgan has calculated at this time based on the documents it has produced (see supra) to be approximately not less than $140,000,000.00.
- 4) Punitive damages in an amount to be determined at trial.
